SPIRENT PLC SALE OF AEROSPACE COMPONENT BUSINESSES COMPLETED

Spirent plc, the international network technology company, has completed the sale of its non-core aerospace component businesses from within its Systems group to Curtiss-Wright Corporation of the United States for a cash consideration of $60 million (£42 million approx.), following satisfaction of all conditions in the sale agreement. Spirent announced the divestment of its aerospace component businesses on 20 February 2002.

Nicholas Brookes, Chief Executive of Spirent, reiterated the comment made when the sale was announced:

"The divestment of these businesses is a further step in our strategy to focus on high technology activities. We believe that the businesses we are divesting more logically fit with the new owners who can provide complementary manufacturing and marketing."
